“Success is where opportunity meets preparation”

Sometimes “success” is a hard thing to define, especially in ministry. We prefer to point to specific numbers, things or position to explain our success or failure. God doesn't measure success the same way.

I like the above quote, “success is where opportunity meets preparation.” God does the “preparing” and we do the “meeting”, in our case, the “going” where God provides the “opportunity”. In the flesh, we prefer God to allow us to lead 1000 deaf kids to Jesus, numbers to use to measure our success. I believe the numbers are coming, but we need the patience to allow God to do the preparing, us and the Mexican nationals. In truth, we were shocked and continue to feel amazed by the lack of ministry to the deaf here in Mexico City. The focus for the past hundred years has been along the northern border. This isn't where most of the population, hearing and deaf, of Mexico live and work. More than 80% of the entire population of Mexico live in the lower half of the country, not the northern. God has given us the preparation to begin meeting the opportunity so we experience success.

I don't know about you, but it just makes sense, common sense and cents to go where you can experience success, the blessing of God. I'm no expert, but to me Mexico City has to be one of the most spiritually dark spots on planet earth. If you want a “Lot” experience, a modern day Sodom and Gomorrah, come to Mexico City where you can feel the darkness around you. It's what I call a place of “opportunity”. Success isn't cheap, spiritually, physically, mentally and emotionally. Not sure who told me this, but it bears repeating here. If it was easy, cheap and readily accessible, everyone would be in line doing it and or getting it. We believe God has some more people to reach in our Sodom and Gomorrah before the time of destruction. Thanks for believing with us!

Please pray with us about the future possibility of a Christian deaf school here in Mexico City. The opportunity is huge! The cost is huge! Volunteers? The line is very short.
